This ambitious book examines the encounter between Gaels and Europeans in Scotland in the central Middle Ages offering new insights into an important period in the formation of the Scots national identity. It is based on a close reading of the texts of several thousand charters, indentures, brieves and other written sources that record the business conducted in royal and baronial courts across the length and breadth of the medieval kingdom between 1150 and 1400. Under An extremely scholarly work that fills a major hole in the historiography of medieval Scotland Highly Recommended Choice About the Author Cynthia J Neville is George Munro Professor of His
