By Peter Skoglund : Rock Art Through Time: Scanian rock carvings in the Bronze Age and Earliest Iron Age (Swedish Rock Art) Rock Art Through Time: Scanian rock carvings in the Bronze Age and Earliest Iron Age (Swedish Rock Art):

As in many other areas in south Scandinavia the region surrounding the city of Simrishamn in south east Scania has a great many Bronze Age mounds that are still visible in the landscape and records from the museums demonstrate that the area is rich in bronze metalwork Nevertheless it is the figurative rock art that makes this region stand out as distinct from surrounding areas that lack such images The rock art constitutes a spatially well defined t Rock Art through Time provides a timely synthesis of rock art research and archaeological excavations in south east Scania

Sweden during the second to first millennia BC It also offers much information relating to the long complex history of the rock art im
