Ecology and Economy in Stone Age and Bronze Age Scania (Skanska Spar - Arkeologi Langs Västkustbanan):

The book presents research on past vegetation landscape and land use in a rural district in western Scania southern Sweden. The investigations were part of the West Coast Line Project, a large scale archaeological project in connection with the expansion of the West Coast railway line. Thanks to careful surveying and a well thought strategy both of wetlands and of archaeological features during the excavations, it has been possible to shed light on a number of interesting topics.
